

The Eternal Port

73451234

A little mermaid, lonely on the shore, watching a scene in which she's the only witness... Carefully cut off the industrial and monotonous landscape of the harbor, the mermaid has always been admired, but also visited criticized mutilated... It's time for a new vision, where each one will come side to side to the statue and observe with it the landscape that presents itself in the other coast, letting their gaze across the water and becoming on their turn a little mermaid in eternal observation.. « The eternal port » is an ecological port based on the fine lines of the old harbor, its proportions, its forms, etching the history while giving it a new green aspect.

The port structure is built, deconstructed and then reconstructed throughout the site with emotions, leading the visitors in its history while offering a fun circuit that allows to understand the cycle of micro-algae, water and gas recycling and production of clean energy through various methods.

The site has a secure underground laboratory, which appears on the ground for ventilation purposes in a green slab then in a music scene on the shore.

This vertiginous algae tubes, water, algae slabs and photovoltaic panels leads to a final scene concretizing the ancien port ambiance : A water mirror projecting a fun mist where children and adults can play, yacht charter powered with biofuel, Suspended concrete slabs that provide a panoramic view of the other side then an infinity of bright stars : « Rawlemons » an ingenious structure that allows producing energy day and night...

A memory that reborns from its ashes, eternal in its history and everlasting thanks to its renewable energy...

