

The installation expresses the poetic potential of wind as well as its potential to generate energy. In fact the installation moves according to the weather conditions and more specifically to the wind speed, frequency and directions.