

Solarc

When the sun is dropping down, Solarc offers a visual spectacle. Due to Ld-converters on the bottom of the solar panels, a small amount of the light from the led lights is stored and is used to light up the installation at night.

Therefore the installation will also be visible from far away and attracts people to step closer.

